“ *Lucy always knew me by name and had a warm greeting for me.
Last time I chatted with Lucy was at church when I brought my patents to mass. She was always smiling. To her family I offer my sympathy, especially her mom Theresa. I am sure Lucy is greeting all her family and friends in heaven. She is a true angel.*

“ Oh Lucy, you were such a light in this world and I am so blessed and thankful for all of our time together. I don't have the words to eloquently state how much I will miss you kicking my butt in scrabble, teaching me how to embroider, picking strawberries, going to church together, singing silent night, or smelling like “a beautiful day.” Thank you for showing me what unconditional love is and for all of our wonderful memories together. You truly are family. Love you so much and can't wait for a hug again someday💕💕

“ Lucy! There is no one I'd rather create cards, make phone calls, embroider, head to church, go on outings, play games, or do exercises with! I'll always cherish our time together ❤️ Thank you for making life at Lancer great 😊

“ Lucy and Mary Pieper hired me back in Dec of 1999 when the people supported helped picked their staff. Lucy was eating grapes during my interview and asking me questions. Smiling and laughing the whole time. She made me so comfortable. That's when I knew we were going to great friends from that point on. She has made a lasting impression in my heart. Until we meet again my friend, until we meet again my friend! I will miss that beautiful smile! Jessica Meyer 🙏💕🙏

“ Oh Lucy! I met you when I worked at Lancer and then reconnected with you when you became my son's first friend when he moved to Lancer. You loved showing me your embroidery and always told everyone we had been friends for so long. Jaimee will miss you singing and reading to him and I will miss the hugs I was waiting to get once we could again. Heaven is going to have such beautiful embroidery now. RIP dear Lucy!
